And you had me served while i was visiting from my mother.

I didn't know about it till the day of. She asked at that moment.

I'll let you explain it in court 311

You already had me served at that address Liz

Why would she not use the address from previous civil case you filled?

If you won't follow the order

Neither will I

See you in court

Nothing would have changed the outcome with your child endangerment with dwi and the assault go cry to someone else.

Save it for court.

I bet y'all thought it was clever to suggest I was neglecting my kids. What's wrong. Your family can't back you up with what they helped you start?

I told you I'd stand on this.

Y'all should have never hid my kids from me.

Once my children realize I was there all along trying to see them

And that y'all have been lying to them about who I am

You'll have to deal with that.

What dose any of that have to do with your financial responsibilities for our kids.

unforgivable. You lie to yourself

Please ask Elizabeth to stop scrambling while attempting to coach my son; late on a Saturday night. The world is watching this unfold in real time. I have nothing to lose

The times Elizabeth would only give me money when I had the children in my possession—if I paid her double in return.

The money to that cult.

Undo this. She tells them I wanted to kill them, when the only people I ever felt that way towards was her and her family for hiding them from me when all of this started; on the case you ignore spo you could falsify the cert.

I would like to be able to eat this year and have a normal life with my children. Instead, I have a daughter who says she hates me because I don't pay child support—and tells me she has to ask her mom if I can attend her choir performances because "she has custody and all."

The rubberstamped Ex Parte motion.

I am a father with nothing to lose.

The drops will not stop until you act in good faith. I should not have to litigate my way out of a case you should have never opened—much less committed fraud on the record to obtain.

You are on notice.

Scott Allen Willis FATHER Pro Se Plaintiff

I never cared about winning a case. But as the facts come out, someone will be held accountable for allowing this to happen.

Laci,

I am trying to avoid embarrassing my children.

The rest of what I have should have everyone on that property in jail.

You didn't even bother to check if there was another case opened against me.

If my son and daughter cannot enjoy their Christmas presents before I go back to work Monday—the data dump is coming. Along with the evidence of Elizabeth's perjury in both cases. And your fraud.

Your carrier is confused because I don't want money.

Whatever you charged Elizabeth to do this to me is already going to get the law changed.

My children.

Scott A. Willis Pro Se Plaintiff Willis v. Rendon Legal PLLC Cause No. 202595850

I don't care if I win the case and I don't want your money. THis is shifting to a legislative effort.

Laci,

Against my better judgment, I am extending the settlement offer to Monday, January 13, 2026 at 5:00 PM CST.

Here's why:

Elizabeth has finally re-registered for supervised visitation at the DRO. This means that instead of simply bringing the children to my home — where I bake my own bread and make my own pasta — my children will have to eat fast food. And my son's tooth will still be chipped.

Instead of being with their father, I will be sitting in a waiting room full of parents.

Parents who, statistically speaking, may have found themselves there under circumstances similar to mine.

Every hour I spend at the DRO is an hour I spend networking with potential plaintiffs, petition signers, and witnesses to systemic failure.

You have until Monday.

I can assure you what will be disclosed after the deadline passes will implore you to change your calculus on this promptly.

Act in good faith. End this. Let me be a father without an audience.

Or don't — and watch what happens when a room full of parents learns they're not alone.

P.S. — Given the additional time and resources expended, the pro bono requirement has increased from 40 hours to 80 hours. Details on the SAFE SAPCR Act sponsorship requirements:
